In noticing the return of the Commissioners who were sent to Mexico to search for the mines of Dr. Gardiner and Mr. Mears, the Alexandria Gazette

We understand that Lagunillias, the township in thoroughly explored; and not only has no mine been discovered, but no person could be found who had ever heard of a mine of silver or quicksilver within the entire department of Rio Verde, to in extent than the District of Columbia) belongs. Slacum, United State agent, to the Department of State, on the 7th of May last, and recently published by the Select Committee of the House of Represen-

THE FEUD IN GIRARD COUNTY, KY .- THE HILLS AND EVANS'.-From a private letter to a citizen of this place we learn that the trial of the parties surviving the last fray, (at a tobacco barn in which some half dozen on each side were engaged, and several killed and others wounded,) has resulted in their acquittal. The account further states that the clans respectively have signed a formal treaty of peace-obliging themselves to refrain from further hostilities-except the Murpheys and Mays, who still refuse to treat. It is also stated that by the various battles, assassinations, seiges, &c., among them, eight men and boys have been killed, several crippled and maimed for life, and forty-eight children left fatherless. The quarrel commenced about the year 1822. As strange as all this may appear, it has occurred in a county which we know to be celebrated for the intelligence and general moral worth of its inhabitants-the native home of personages no less distinguished in Kentucky than McKee, Robertson, Owsley, and Letcher. - Columbia (Mo.) A GANG OF VILLIANS ROUTED. In Harrison county, Ky., on the 6th, the authorities were successful in the discovery of a clan of counterfeiters, horse thieves, and robbers. A man named Neil Ballingal, of Nicholas county, was arrested for uttering spurious money, and $4,118 counterfeit bills of the denominations of $100, Northern Bank of Kentucky; $10's and $20's, Bank of Tennessee; $5's and $10's, State Bank of Indiana; $4's Bank of Kentucky; $50's, Bank of Louisiana, found on his premises. Another leader, named Barry, was cantured and taken to Flemingsburg. Judge Ross let Ballingall off on $800 bail.

The Louisville Journal gives the following account of another steamboat explosion :

Another Steamboat Disaster.—A letter from Columbia, Ark., states that the new steamer J. Wilson, as she was leaving the landing on the 6th inst., bursted two of her boilers, carrying off the forecastle and nearly one-third of the hurricane roof. One of the boilers was blown ashore and struck the upper story of Peter Rowlett's coffechouse, from which a party of gentlemen had just retired. Everything forward of the cook-house gave way, and the cabin and all in it fell into the fire and steam. Two of the engineer losts their lives, Mr. White, head engineer, not being on board.-The number of lives lost is supposed to be about forty, Mr. Whitewall, of Chicot county, is one of the number. The captain, John Rotan, is said to have been drinking, but was saved, though severely injured. The matter is undergoing legal investigation. The boat was owned by Capt. J. Rotan and J. M. Craig-cost $18,000, and insured for $9,000 in the Marine and Fire Insurance company, Louisville. The money chest and books were blown miles below and sunk.

A BRIGHT SPOT .- THE BANNER COUNTY OF THE Banner State.—In El Paso county, Texas, Pierce and King received six hundred and fifty votes; General Scott-none. El Paso is not only the Banner County of Texas, but of the Union. This is doing up politics on the true jug-handle style-all on Another Senatorial Question.—It seems to be likely that the United States Senate at its next session will have another case of a disputed seat before it, from Louisiana. About a year ago the Legislature of that State, which used to have biennial sessions under the old constitution, met and elected Mr. J. T. Benjamin, U. S. Senator. The law meantime, is that it is to be done in the year when the term of the old Senator expires, if the Legislature sits in that year. The term of Mr. Downs, n whose place Mr. Benjamin was elected last year, expires upon the 4th of March next, and the latter was chosen upon the contingency that there would be no session of the Legislature this year. There would have been none had not a new constitution been adopted, and Legislature under it been elected, which commences its session in a few days at Baton Rouge. It is contended that, acting under the law of the State, it will be their duty to elect a Senator in the place of Mr. Downs, and that Mr. Benjamin's election depending upon a contingency will not be valid. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mr. Wm. Glover, joiner, Newcastle, fixed a pistol in his room so that any person entering would be shot. This he did because the room had been entered in his absence, and contrary to his wish.-Knowing the trick himself he could so open the door as to occasion no discharge. It so happened, however, that he one day was unsuccessful in his attempt, and shot himself in the legs. Still, however, he persisted in his folly, to call it by no harsher name, and, last week, he again discharged the pistol, and was killed .- English paper.

Mail Robbery .- On Thursday night last the letter bag containing the Huntsville mail was robbed on board the steamer Chattanooga, on her passage from Whitesburg to Guntersville. The mail bag and fragments of letters were found next morning in the wash-room, and others also secreted among the cotton bales. Fortunately the perpetrator of the robbery was not an adept in crime. A cabin | American cause, would unite with the diplomacy boy upon the Chattaneoga, by the name of Stephen Wilson, was arrested the next day at Guntersville, (he having left the boat at that place,) suspicion being excited by his showing the halves of several bank bills. We understand that he confesses to the robbery, and implicates a deck hand employed on the boat as an instigator of the robbery. It is not known whether any valuable papers were lost. Such letters and parts of letters as were recovered. we believe are in charge of the Postmaster at this place.—Chattanooga Advertiser.

HIGH PRICE OF NEGROES .- At public auction on Thursday, in Charleston, Thos. Ryan & Son sold fifteen likely negroes for $10,365, or an average of $691. Three boys, aged about 17, brought the following sums, viz-$1062, $1035, 1010, and two $1000; making an average of $1022. Capers & Haywood sold a gang of 400 negroes in families --Two or three families averaged from $1000 to $1100 for each individual; and the entire sale averaged $550. C. G. Whitney sold two likely female house servants, one at $1000, the other at $1190.—Augusta Chronicle.

FOREIGN POLICY.

It is well known that the little, republics on this continent, south of us, ever since Mr. Monroe's declaration in 1823, have looked to this government for protection against the aggressive spirit of the European powers. Until the advent of the present administration, this duty had been discharged and the obligations of the Monroe doctrine faithfully observed. During the present regime, however, it is evident that these obligations have been disregarded, and that the English government has obtained very

During last year Mr. Crampton and Mr. Webster intervened to adjust certain difficulties between the republic of Nicaragua and the kingdom of Mosquito. The result of this intervention was the submission to Nicaragua of a proposition giving away about which the pretended mines were located, has been one-third of her territory to the Mosquito King, who claimed under the protection of Great Britaln. Here was the positive recognition of the right of European powers to interfere with affairs on this which department the township of Lagunillias (less | continent, and absolutely making the United States a party to the spoilation of a neighboring republic. How absurd in this government to prate of preventing European interference on this continent, when we stultify ourselves by joining with them to give away territory, under the pretext of defining boundaries, from a republic to a kingdo ! This act is aggravated by the fact that the kingdom to which we transferred this amount of territory conjointly with the British Envoy, claimed then and still claims under the protection of England. To show the enormity of this proposition we copy the following: The Directors of the State of Nicaragua to its Inhabitants: Inasmuch as the legislative assembly has decreed

The Senate and Chamber of Representatives of the State of Nicaragua in assembly convoked-

DECREES. Article 1. The State of Nicaragua does not accept the project of convention or recommendatory b sis adjusted on the 30th of April last, between his excellency Daniel Webster, Secretary of State of the United States, and his excellency J. F. Crampton, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of her Britannic Majesty, in respect to the territorial boundaries between Costa Rico and Nicaragua, and the separation of the Mosquito coast.

Art. 2. The State of Nicaragua is disposed to have the question started in connection with the points mentioned discussed before impartial arbitrators. Art. 3. CASTILLON, A true copy : Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

This proceeding of the Nicaraguan government exhibits the injustice of the proposition. But as farther explanatory of its enormity we copy the following additional decree of Nicaragua:

The Legislative Chambers of the republic of Nicaragua, in view of past events and existing circumof the people which it represents, solemnly de-

1. Their adhesion to the principle of the total exclusion of European interference from the domestic and international affairs of the republican American States, as necessary to their peace and independ-

2. That the extension of monarchical institutions by conquest, colonization, or by a support of savage chiefs to sovereignly, or savage tribes to national exoverboard and lost, and the wreck floated twelve | istence, or by other means, upon the American continent, is in opposition to the interests of the republican American States, dangerous to their peace and safety, and an encroachment upon their individual and collective rights.

To enable our readers to understand the second article of the above decree, it is perhaps necessary to state, that the Mosquito Kingdom is nothing in the world but a "savage tribe" elevated into "national existence" by the protection of England .-And to this "savage tribe" thus nurtured into nationality by the aggressive protectorate of Great Britain, the United States proposes to transfer a considerable territory. The consummation of such diplomacy as this, and the permission of European powers to assume protectorateships over "savage tribes" and impart to them "national existence." is equivalent to permitting them to colonize on this continent, and consequently a violation of an established principle of our foreign policy. We wait to see what defence whig presses can make of such

We also append an article from the official paper

FROM THE "GACETA OFFICIAL DE NICABAGUA," OCT. 31, 1852.] In some of our late numbers we have alluded to the rejection by the legislature of this State of the Webster and Crampton project—a project which seems to have been prepared by two great minds. with the sole view of exposing to the modern world the sombre remains of the public law of the middle ages, and to have been intended rather as a satire upon the old school of policy than as a conception due to the present day-rather as an insult to reason than as a homage rendered to peace. By what right do England and the United States pretend to impose laws upon Nicaragua in the shameful conditions of the rejected scheme? It may be said that it contains nothing but mere indications. But why should we be threatened? Threats are generally supported by power, and what we are threatened with is scarcely less insulting than the motive of the threat. Here we at once perceive the fatal consequences of the Bulwer and Clayton convention, in which Nicaragua expected, in good faith, to see a protecting hand extended in favor of her rights. The error was certainly a pardonable one; for it was impossible to suppose that a friendly Government, naturally called upon to vindicate the of the old world to constitute a mock kingdom in 1851, 1,662,585 of 890 lbs; and in the present year (1852,) the very heart of Nicaragua, with a view of usurping the most fertile portion of our territory. What would have been the indignation of the immortal Washington had he beheld his prosperous republic making itself subservient to the oppressive designs of its natural enemy? And what would the enlightened Monroe say, were he to witness the abandonment by his successors of his profound and statesmanlike principle of opposition to the establishment of European dominion in America? But far be it from us to suppose that the American people entertain any hostile feelings towards us. Since the publication of the Bulwer treaty numerous champions have sprung up in the United States in our behalf, who have boldly attacked the criminal principles on which it reposed. And now the free

American people give us another proof of their sympathy in the applause with which they hail our rejection of the Webster-Crampton scheme. Our constancy in supporting our national rights has created for us advocates among all those who love justice; for our cause is the American cause, the cause of reason against force, the cause of independence and liberty against the pretensions of corions of our friends in the North will be echoed throughout America; that the justice of our cause will succeed in enlisting public opinion in our favor;

and that, sooner or later, force will be overcome

Though Col. Gentry is an able man and a prominent politician, yet, we comess that we are glad to see him leave the field. We once had full confidence in him as a whig, (and he claims to be a good whig still) yet such whigs we do not wish to have anything to do with. We will get along, in our inion, much better without them, than with them. We have no personal animosity at Col. Gentry, but when it comes to pass that a man cannot consistently with his own feelings act with his party, let him lay still, and not endeavor to split to pieces the party and throw everything into confusion, knowing that no one is infallable.

The Constitution of Rhode Island, framed by the whigs a few years ago, disqualifies for office all but electors, and no man can be elector who does not own a certain amount of real estate, unless he be a negro! This is a discrimination in favor of the colored race with a vengeance. They are made a privileged class by the whigs of Rhode Island. The whigs have had a good deal to say, and have shed a great many tears over that provision in the constitution of New Hampshire that disqualifies Catholics from holding three or four offices in that State, but they are perfectly willing that both Catholics and Protestants shall be proscribed in Rhode Island from holding any office, unless they own real estate of some value; the only exception to this clause being in favor of negroes! What say the southern whigs to this discrimination of their brethren in Rhode Island?

ANNUAL COTTON REPORT.

LIVERPOOL, 31st Dec. 1852. In again presenting our Annual Tables concerning the Cotton Trade, with some brief remarks, chiefly of a statistical character, we must observe that the crop in the United States proved to be considerably beyond the estimates formed of it this time last year, showing that a dry season, even approaching to a drought, is the one most favorable to the Cotton plant, nothing being required beyond this but an uninterrupted period for picking, such as was experienced from August to the end of November in 1851. The crop proved to be 3,015,029 bales, an increase of 659,772 bales upon the previous year, and of 285,433 bales upon the largest previous crop, that of 1848; and the quantity taken for conamption in the United Spates appears to have been 603,029 bales, against 414,108 bales in 1851. Consumption.—The year opened under favorable circumstances for the manufacturing interests. There was an absence of stocks, a good demand for export and home trade, with low prices and the prospect of an ample supply of Cotton, thus giving every stimulous to an extended consumption; and as in our previous annual statement we calculated the consumption during the last seven months of 1851 at the weekly rate of 34,000 bales, it was pretty evident from the large extension of mills and machinery in various districts, but particularly in this country, that preparations were ma-king (and are still even now going on) for a greatly increased ption of Cotton; the result is a delivery from the ports perfectly astounding, and this will best be seen by comparing the quantity taken by spinners in each of the last ten years, with the average weight per bale. In 1843 it was 1,588,068 bales of 376 lbs; in 1844, 1,426,822 of 377 lbs; in 1,555,055 5,568,199 of 378 fbs; in 1846, 1,559,267 of 384 fbs; in 1847, 1,105,998 of 381 fbs; in 1848, 1,505,331 of 393 fbs; in 1849, 1806,608 of 895 lbs; in 1850, 1,513,007 of 886 lbs; in 1,911,558 bales, of the average weight of 393 fbs. By reducing each year's delivery to one uniform weight of 300

This per bale, the comparison will stand thus: In 1850, 1,948,265; 1851, 2,168,421; 1852, 2,500,027 per 300 lbs per week, 67,463 41,604 48,077 Thus the delivery is 15.5 per cent. more than that of last year, and if we allow for estimated increase of stock in spigners' hands, there will still be an increase of 12.5 per cent. We believe that spinners commenced this year with a stock of Cotton somewhere about 100,000 bales, and with light stocks of manufactures, either of Goods or Yarns, and all accounts agree that in the latter they are equally light in stock now; hence the question arises, what has become of this immense quantity of Cotton? We find that spinners kept adding to their stocks of Cotton, month by month, up to the end of October, at which period they must have held nearly 300,000 bales; then, owing to high prices, and a prospect of a large crop, they began to restrict their purchases, and during the last two months have taken so little from the ports, and consequently have so far reduced their stocks, that we now estimate them at not more than 150,000, which, however, is 50,000 more than they held at the commence ment of the year. Then again the quality of the American Cotton this year has been indifferent, and there has been a greater loss in the working of it, in waste and dust probably 21/4 to 3 per cent. more than usual; still this would not make a difference of more than 40,000 bales, and we have an increased consumption to account for, of 3826 bales weekly.

The Board of Trade returns, so far as published, show no ncrease in the export of Cotton fabrics; it follows then that the whole increase must be in the home trade, (and in the large quantity now worked up in mixing with wool and other materials;) and whether this is to be attributed to free trade—the abundance of gold—to emigration—or to all three combined, there can be no doubt it indicated a high state of rosperity, which cannot but be gratifying to all parties.

Having shown the delivery for consumption, reduced to bales of one uniform weight, 300 lbs, it may be useful to show what the actual consumption in bales has been, by allowing for difference of stock in spinners' hands at the close of each year. The weekly average, with the stock in consumers' hands, and in the ports, &c., will be seen in the following statement:—

the smallest possible fraction per week, (if we except the last two months, when the sales were so limited the decline became rapid,) and this owing to the free way in which importers met the demand; for although the transactions have ocen of immense magnitude, speculators, who purchased to the extent of 900,000 bales in this market alone, were content to realize at such small profits, as to give quite a jobbing character to all their operations. The price of Middling quality of New Orleans Cotton each month, with the quantity taken by the trade, will be seen as follows:—January 173,020 bales, 4 11–16d to 434d 2 lb; February 162,323 bales, 4 13–16d to 5 1–16d; March 170, 026 bales, 5d to 5 4 d; April 1-2,856 bales, 4 15-16 to 53/d; May 289,444 bales, 53/d to 53/d; June 144,944 bales, 53/d to 5 7-16d; July 172,656 bales, 55-16d to 5 9-16d; August 168,753 bales, 5% d to 5 11-16d; September 158,346 bales, 5% d to 5% d; October 194,320 bales, 5 13-16d to 6% d; November 88,577 bales, 5% d to 6 1-16d; December 102,246 bales, 5 7-16d to 5% d Pib. Prospects.—The remarks under this head in our last annual Circular, all of a favorable character, having been more then verified, we have little more to do than repeat, in substance, what we then stated, in reference to future probabilities regarding the Cotton trade. Nothwithstanding the greatly increased quantity of Cotton manufactured, we find there are light stocks everywhere; a good export demand for every quarter of the globe, but at the present moment unusually large, and increasing, for the Indian markets; a home demand large beyond precedent, it may be presumed mainly owing to the full employment and improved condi-tion of the working classes; and to all this, there is abundance of money, seeking employment, and content to find it tupon an easy and moderate interest. These are all stimulants, which spinners are evident availing themselves of; and a very considerable extension of mills and machinery we find still in progress which eventually may add to the present greatly increased rate of consumption many hundreds of bales of Cotton per week. Thus an increased consumption is more than probable; and large as the supply this year has been, we are le't without any material increase of stock, although the import of new Cotton during the last two months has been twice the amount of that received in any previous season

The prospect, for supply is, that an increase may be expected from India, an import probably equal to that received in 1851. From Egypt a fall average supply, but considerably less than we have had this year. From Brazil and the West Indias seamely. Indies scareely so much as in the present year. The crop in the United States, from all accounts, is likely to be a large one, fully equal to last year's, and we know it to be much superior in quality; but owing to the small quantity of old coton remaining at the commencement of the season, and the large quantity of the new crop already received here, we caunot expect to have in 1853 so large a per centage of the crop, whatever that may be, as we have had this year. The latest accounts give the receipts at the ports 1,002,161 bales, against 649,268 bales in 1851; and 605,144 bales in 1850.

THE CITY.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

The Gazette has an article vindicating woman from the witty slander of not having a soul above buttons. We do not think any one can, after reading this article, doubt the fact that woman has a soul above buttons. Our neighbor has proved it beyond dispute, and the proposition may now be considered a res adjudicata. We hope that woman will be duly thankful for his condescending kindness. Our neighbor also notices a pincushion presented him, which he says bears the marks of fair hands. Our neighbor also says that the Iron Duke had only a bust of Jenuy Lind, and he has a pincushion .-How in the world a pincushion could suggest busts of Jenny Lind passes comprehension, and we are certain that the genius of simile itself would be baffled in discovering the resemblance between the Iron Duke and the Editor of the Gazette.

The Banner contains an article pointing out 9tistical inaccuracies in the American Railway Times. That all these tables are inaccurate is a fact. The reason of these inaccuracies is that these tables are gotten up, not to diffuse real information, but for some particular purpose which compels its authors to sacrifice truth to this purpose.

The American contains an article on the spoils. The True Whig has an article on the commercial convention at Memphis, in June next. Our city cotemporaries are begining to be dull. They don't even give us anything to laugh at.

Musical Examination.—Mr. Hess, teacher in the Musical Department of the Nashville Ladies' College, will give an examination of his pupils to night, at Masonic Hall. A delightful treat will doubtless be enjoyed by those present.

- We invite attention to Mr. Hess' card in another column. Mr. H. has a high reputation as A teacher of Music, and will not fail to give satisfaction to his pupils.

The City of Huntsville has taken the place of the Sligo No. 2, in the Memphis and Nashville U. S. Mail Line. She leaves this evening at 6 o'clock, Capt. Boeis is her commanding officer. THEATRE To-NIGHT.—The tragedy of Fozio will be performed this evening at the Adelphi-Miss Logan appearing in the character of Bianca. Mr. Charles takes the part of Fazio. Messrs, Ewin Brothers have taken into partnership Mr. WATT B. EWIN-a gentleman of experience as a druggist. See advertisement, BRITISH ELOQUENCE.

W. T. BERRY & CO. have just received-SELECT BRITISH ELOQUENCE-Embracing the best Speeches entire of the most eminent Orators of Great Britain for the last two centuries; with Sketches of their Lives; an Estimate of their Genius, and Note, Critical and Explanatory. By Chauncey A. Goodrich, D.D.

Professor in Yale College. In one large octavo volume. In this carefully prepared volume, we have an important contribution to rhetorical literature. Containing the speeches of the great British orators which are regarded as the master pieces of their respective authors—a memoir of each orator, showing the leading events of his public life, and the distinctive characteristics of his oratory—an historical introduction to each of his speeches, explaining the circumstances of the ease, the states of the parties and the exact point at issue—an analysis of the longer speeches in side notes—and a large body of critical and explanatory notes, together with translations of the passages quoted from foreign languages, it leaves nothing to be desired as a text book of the political and forensic eloquence of Great Britain. The copious and valuable memoirs and notices by the editor, makes this less a compilation than an original work. The manner in which he has performed his task is a model of accurate and thorough aditorship. He has omitted nothing which the most exacting student could demand for the elucidation of the subjected in hand, without ever being tempted to indulge in superfluous details. A great mass of attractive information is thus presented, and in a style of singular clearness, strength and elegance. It is rarely that such profound scholarship, sound judgment, refined taste and vigorous expression, are devoted to the critical preparation for the press of the standard production of other writers.

W. T. B. & Co. have also just received-
